Racer hails heroes

NEW YORK POST
CAMPAIGN

NASCAR
team Supports
FDNY families

By READERPNER

The Schenectady, N.Y., NASCAR

Champion Truck Series driver Jim

Gies, John O. Ballew, Richard T. Scialanti and Norman

Rosenblum — are using their Daytona

International Speedway on Feb. 28. The team will sport a decals with the words "Always Remember...Never Forget"

and the names of the three firefighters who died in two separate blazes in Jan. 23.

"We're planning to wear them for their ultimate sacrifice in protecting us," said team owner

DEDICATION. DUTY. HONOR. COURAGE.

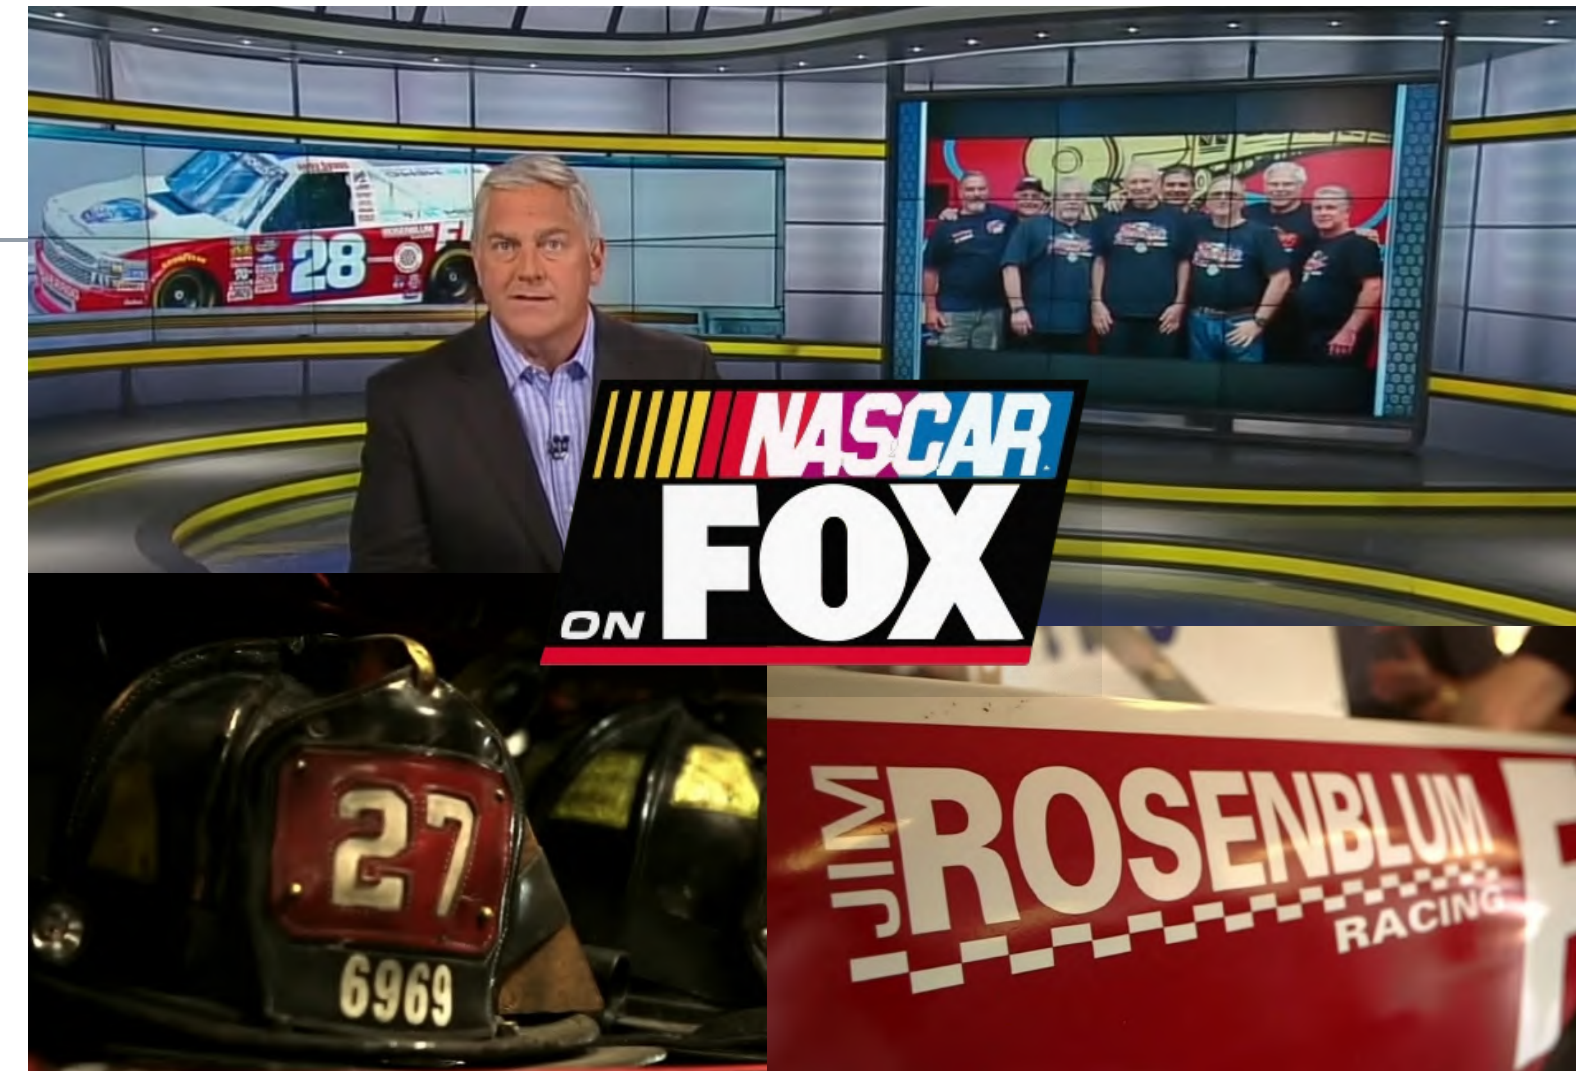

DRAF10 exists for our fallen heroes.

OUR MISSION

WE CARRY THE TORCH FOR THEIR BRAVERY

Draf10 Motorsports exists today because of the bravery and honor shown by our very own NYFD and NYPD then and their legacies continues today. Born from & for our fallen heroes. On 9-11-2001 we lost 343 men, heroes who gave their life to so others may life.

THE TEAM

NYFD & NYPD

Just as important to the success of Draf10 Motorsports is the dedicated team of volunteers made up of both retired and active duty New York City firemen and police officers who form the backbone of the team. They ensure the race truck performs as best as possible by maintaining vital equipment, fixing any race damage and helping keep the driver safe.

4 ALL MEN & WOMEN

Draf10 Motorsports is a proud member of NASCAR's Drive for Diversity Pit Crew Development program.

This program brings in both male and female former minority college athletes and gives them the knowledge and experience to become part of the exciting world of stock car racing.
